Christmas tips from the National Autistic Society

Christmas can be an exciting time, but for some children, it can be overwhelming.

Many children with autism can find any kind of change difficult.

Planning and preparation is key in making the Christmas holidays an enjoyable time for all.

Spelling Support

Lots of children find spelling tricky.

To improve your spelling, have a look at this website for a simple free spelling programme.

<https://www.doorwayonline.org.uk/activities/speller/>

It uses the "Look, Say, Cover, Write, Check" spelling approach, which is a successful strategy when learning spelling patterns.

For further information and advice, please look at our school website.
